The Art Of Achieving Your Goals

The Science of Digital Color Printing

You need it in color. You need just a few. You need them customized, personalized, addressed and collated. And you need them now. You need Digital Color Printing from Minuteman Press of Cambridge. We've overcome the limits of traditional printing to meet the demands of corporate America. So now, there are no limits to your success.

True print-on-demand.

Now it's practical to get high-quality, full-color print in small quantities from just 1 to 5,000 pieces. And possible to do it in a fraction of the usual time! With digital color printing from Minuteman Press of Cambridge, your brochures, reports, presentations and other materials are printed directly from your electronic files. Pre-press and proofing time are minimal, so you enjoy extremely fast turnaround. And you get exactly the quantity you need, so there's no inventory waste. It's true print-on-demand – with all the quality, efficiency and control you demand.

High quality.

Digital printing delivers process-quality color that rivals traditional offset printing. . And you have even more control and confidence, because the proof you see is an actual sample of the finished piece. You also have a huge selection of quality papers to choose from, including gloss and uncoated cover and text stocks up to 18-pt, and 100% post-consumer recycled stock. You'll get exactly the look you're after, with all the quality you demand.

Advanced capabilities.

Using simple database files, your materials can be customized, personalized and addressed completely inline. Black & white pages (printed or copied at low, black & white prices) can be collated with your color pages inline. Now customized communications and 1-to-1 marketing are a practical reality!

Unsurpassed service and professionalism.

The professionals at Minuteman Press of Cambridge – from expert digital prepress technicians to your dedicated account executive – assure your 100% satisfaction.
